OREGON ARMOR INTRODUCES THE RHINO— A LIGHT, FOLDABLE LEVEL IIIA BALLISTIC SHIELD

The Rhino is the most useful, flexible ballistic shield available today. The Rhino is a light, rapidly deployable shield that serves many critical functions for law enforcement and military personnel in many tactical situations.

The Rhino provides Level III protection for the head and torso, and level IIIA for the lower body. This enhanced protection for the torso and head is unique in the industry and gives officers and military personnel a convenient, lightweight ballistic shield that can be easily deployed in many situations.

The Rhino can be deployed in numerous ways to protect an officer within the vehicle. The Rhino is equipped with attachment points that allow it to be mounted on the door frame to protect the officer from rounds entering through the vehicle door or through the windshield.

The Rhino provides an instant bunker deployable on the vehicle or on the ground. The Rhino's light weight and multiple configurations make it the best choice for a single ballistic shield that will serve the officer in a variety of tactical situations.
